Thomas Paterson, 10 July 1935, National Archives of Australia, A1 1935/3951

I reference to a letter I wrote to you some three weeks ago about the 60,000 and 281,520 square miles allotted to the Aborigines, in regard the nearest and most convenient way to get to it. I am desirous of a reply at your earliest convenience, also a definite reply to your further consideration of our deputation held 23/1/35.
